Wedding Entertainment

What type of wedding entertainment are you looking for?

Music is one of the key elements of your wedding. You'll replay the melodies from your special day over and over again in your mind for years to come. That's why Gigmasters prides itself on offering such a vast selection of wedding entertainment. With so many choices, you can create the specific type of service and reception you've always dreamed of.

You'll find four categories below. Wedding Music Bands, Wedding DJs, Solo Musicians, and Classical Ensembles. Choose several to set the appropriate mood and atmosphere for each portion of your special day.

Wedding Bands

What type of wedding music band are you looking for? You'll find wedding entertainment from one end of the spectrum to the other. Do you want your guests to dance? Consider a Latin band or swing band to pick up the beat. Looking for a more sophisticated feel? A jazz band or cover band that plays Broadway show tunes might be your choice for wedding reception music. You're only limited by your imagination.

Solo Musicians

A gorgeous and memorable touch to any ceremony is the addition of solo musicians. The gentle melodies played by a harpist or flutist during the prelude to your ceremony can add an air of distinction. A pianist and organist are often used for the wedding march and also to provide wedding reception music. Don't forget to consider a keyboardist, acoustic guitarist, or wedding singer for wedding entertainment options.

Classical Ensembles

A delightful deviation from traditional wedding music bands is the classical ensemble. A woodwind ensemble gives an elegant feel to prelude music. Follow this with a lively string quartet or brass ensemble for your wedding reception music, and you'll have an upscale event you and your guests will remember.
